2ND REGIMENTAL COMBAT TEAM

The 2nd Armored Cavalry Regiment
« Dragoon Color Guard ».

GERMANY 1954

HEADQUARTERS
SECOND ARMORED CAVALRY
OFFICE OF REGIMENTAL COMMANDER

Nurnberg, Germany 1954

TO: The Officers and Men of the 2d Armored
Cavalry Regimental Combat Team

Our success in accomplishing our mission in Europe has firmly established our enviable reputation throughout the European Command. Each of you, as individuals, and as a part of your unit, has helped to make this possible. This book is a pictorial review of this success story.

The enviable accomplishments of the 2d Armored Cavalry carry on the tradition established in 1836 at the time of its founding. Since that beginning, its banner has been carried through every major military action in the history of our country with the exception of the Korean Conflict. Through the years, personnel and methods have changed, but the spirit and traditions remain the same. In like manner, members of the 371st Armored Infantry Battalion and the 70th Armored Field Artillery Battalion have also compiled illustrious records. You of the entire Regimental Combat Team may well be proud of your contribution as you carry out the assignment of guarding the frontiers of the free world.

As the Regiment prepares for departure to the Zone of Interior, we can feel secure with the knowledge of a job well done in living up to the motto, "Toujours Pret", Always Ready.

ARMORED CAVALRY
REGIMENT

GERMANY 1954

History of the 2nd Armored Cavalry Regiment

The 2nd. Cavalry at Beverly Ford, 1853

THE 2D ARMORED CAVALRY REGIMENT has the enviable status of being not only one of the oldest regiments in the United States Army today, but also of being one of the most decorated. The 2d Cavalry began making history in the year 1836 when it was created as a mounted regiment to fight the Seminole Indians troubling settlers in Florida.

Since its organization in 1836, the 2d Cavalry has taken part in every war fought by the United States and has seen over half a century of fighting against hostile Indians. It has not only traveled completely around the world, but has also traveled from the Equator to the Arctic Circle. It has fought the Seminole Indians in Florida, Apaches in the Southwest and in the Rockies, and Moros in the Philippine Islands. It has taken part in every engagement of the Mexican war, prevented civil war in Kansas and guarded the Mormon Prophet in Utah. It fought with McClellan on the Chickamauga, charged with Sheridan in the Shenandoah, landed with Shafter in Cuba, fought with saber and horse through World War I and lately added tanks to the steel of the spear that Patton drove through France and Germany in World War II.

The Regimental Standard of the 2d Armored Cavalry is decorated with forty-seven battle streamers awarded for combat against armed enemies of the United States. Each ribbon streamer bears the name of a major engagement famous in the history of our country. In addition, elements of less than battalion strength have fought in fourteen other officially recognized campaigns or engagements; thus crediting the regiment with a total of sixty-one battle honors. Throughout its history, the 2d has performed its mission with efficiency and dispatch in living up to its motto "Toujours Pret" (Always Ready).

SEMINOLE INDIAN WARS

In 1836 the settlers of Florida, troubled by the Seminole Indians, petitioned the Federal Government for help. In answer to their request for troops, President Andrew Jackson, on May 23d, signed the Act of Congress which created the regiment known as the Second Dragoons, with the official birthday designated as May 23, 1836. At the completion of the campaign in Florida, when the Seminoles were driven into the swamps of the Everglades, the 2d Dragoons moved to the Southwest territories to commence a long period of service in overcoming marauding Indian tribes, who were hindering the movement of American settlers into that territory.

WAR WITH MEXICO

The 2d Dragoons were particularly outstanding in this conflict. The unit was instrumental in the victories at Resaca de la Palma, and Buena Vista, Mexico and also showed well in the encounters at Cerro Gordo, Molina del Rey, and Chapultepec. In recognition of this, General Scott chose them as his escort for the triumphant entry into Mexico City.

Shortly after the Mexican War the 2d Dragoons added another page to American History books when, on June 6, 1849, a detachment established an outpost in the Southwest at the confluence of the Clear and West Forks of the Trinity River, now known as Fort Worth, Texas.

CIVIL WAR

The Regiment was re-designated the 2d United States Cavalry Regiment, formed into twelve troops of about seventy men each, and was initially committed at the Battle of Bull Run on July 2, 1861. During the year 1862, it participated in the action at Fort Donelson, Shiloh, and in the Peninsular Campaign at Yorktown, and later in Stoneman's

WORLD WAR I

In April 1918, the 2d Cavalry landed in France and was in the Toul Sector three weeks after leaving home. The 2d gained the unique distinction of being the only American Cavalry unit to remain mounted and reach the firing line. It was prominent in the Aisne-Marne and Oise-Aisne Offensives, but received greatest commendation for action in the reduction of the St. Mihiel Salient. Following the Armistice, the Regiment remained with the Army of Occupation in Germany at Coblenz until August 1919 when it returned to the States for duty at Fort Riley, Kansas. From 1919 to 1939, it performed peacetime duty as a school training regiment at the Cavalry School located there.

WORLD WAR II

In December 1942, the Regiment became the 2d Cavalry Group Mechanized. Following training at Fort Jackson, South Carolina, it embarked from New York in April 1944 for the European Theater of Operations where it joined the Third Army of Lt General George S. Patton Jr., the Army with which it was to fight through France and Germany for the remainder of the War in Europe. The Regiment landed at Normandy and fought through the Rhineland Campaign, the Saar Offensive, the Battle of the Ardennes, and the Campaign of Central Europe.

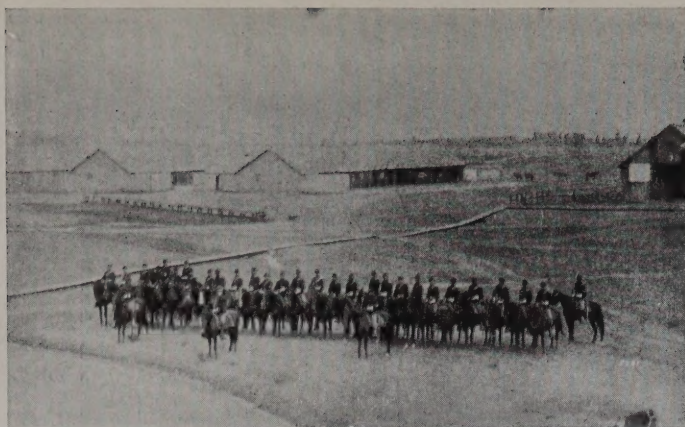

THE OCCUPATION

Peace in Europe on May 9, 1945, found the 2d Cavalry drawn up on the Pilsen-Nepomuk restraining line in Czechoslovakia, the deepest penetration reached by the Third Army when the stop order, preventing further forward movement came down on May 7th.

The 2d became the 2d Constabulary Regiment in May 1946, serving in the occupation first as a police force. In September 1947, it moved from Freising to Augsburg and in December 1948 was redesignated the 2d Armored Cavalry Regiment and the 2d, 42d, and 68th Squadrons became the 1st, 2d, and 3d Battalions.

In October 1951, the 2d Cav moved from Augsburg to its present stations in Nurnberg, Bindlach, Bamberg, and Amberg.

Today the 2d stands ready to meet any threat which should arise in Western Europe, ever mindful of its famous motto, "Toujours Pret", Always Ready.

2nd Cavalry Regiment. Fort Walla Walla, July 1886.

Raid through Virginia. Next followed action in Northern Virginia culminating in the fateful Battle of Gettysburg on July 1-3 which destroyed the offensive power of the Confederate Army.

Following the Civil War, the 2d Cavalry went to the Northwest once again to combat hostile Indians. These campaigns protected the wagon trains moving into the area. The most famous engagement was the elimination of the Sioux Tribe, which had annihilated the sister Seventh Cavalry Regiment led by General Custer, at the Battle of the Little Big Horn. Five years after this action, the Regiment spent six months exploring unknown regions in Alaska.

THE WAR WITH SPAIN

The War with Spain in 1898 found the 2d Cavalry at Fort Sam Houston, Texas, ready again. They were selected by General Shafter for the Santiago Campaign and departed the United States from the port of San Francisco to join Teddy Roosevelt's famous "Rough Riders". The unit fought at El Caney, San Juan Hill, and Aquadores, Cuba, followed by the Puerto Rican Campaign in July and August.

After the War with Spain, the 2d went to the Philippine Islands where it participated in the Cavite Campaign against insurgents during 1905, and were back in the Philippines fighting the Moros in 1910.

Assigned to Stateside duty in June 1912, the 2d Cavalry performed patrol duty along the Mexican Border and in 1915 joined General Pershing's Punitive Expedition into Mexico.

Tanks and infantry of the 2nd AC Reg. move through an Aggressor-laid smoke screen as they make a frontal assault on the final objective of their tank-infantry platoon problem at Tennenlohe, 4 March 1954.

COLONEL WILLIAM H. GREEAR, Commanding Officer of the 2d Armored Cavalry Regiment has been a member of the U.S. Army since 1 July 1924 when he entered the United States Military Academy at West Point, New York. Since that time he has held consecutive assignments throughout the United States and Europe.

A 1922 graduate of Clovis, New Mexico High School, he attended the University of Texas in Austin and during his second year was employed as a part time instructor at the Austin Military Academy. This was terminated by his entry into the Armed Forces and the United States Military Academy on the 1st of July 1924. Five years later, in June of 1929, he was graduated with a Bachelor of Science Degree in Military Science and commissioned as a Second Lieutenant in the Regular Army.

After several Stateside assignments, Col Greear attended the Cavalry School at Fort Riley, Kansas from 1937 to 1939 when he completed the school's advanced Equitation Course. He later served at the Cavalry School from 1941 to 1943, first as an Instructor in Tactics and then as Director, Department of Weapons. Following this came service as Executive Officer with the 106th Cavalry Regiment and attendance and graduation from the Army and Navy Staff College. Coming to the European Theater of Operations in 1944, Col Greear was with the 11th and 8th Amphibious Forces, taking part in the invasions of Normandy and Southern France, where, in the latter action, he earned and was awarded the Bronze Star Medal.

Returning to the U.S., he remained on the faculty of the Army-Navy Staff College and the National War College until August of 1946 when he joined the occupation forces in Germany. After some months as Deputy Unit Commander and Executive Officer with the 3d Constabulary Regiment, he moved to United States Constabulary Headquarters where he remained as Deputy Chief of Staff until his return to the Zone of Interior in July 1949.

An instructor in the Plans and Operations Division and later as a Faculty Board Review Member, Col Greear served at the Armed Forces Staff College of Norfolk, Virginia for three years. He entered the Industrial College of the Armed Forces in Washington, D.C. as a student in August 1952 and graduated in June 1953. Arriving in USAREUR in June 1953, he took over the position as Chief of Staff to the United States Commander in Berlin and held that post until 10 July when he moved to Nurnberg and assumed command of the 2d Armored Cavalry Regiment.

Married in 1930 to the former Helen Monte McCulloch of Fort Worth, Texas, Colonel Greear is currently serving as the forty-third commander of the 2d Cavalry.

Lt. Colonel Archie G. Birkner

Executive Officer

2nd Armored Cavalry Regiment

LT COL ARCHIE G. BIRKNER, Executive Officer of the 2d Armored Cavalry Regiment has been a member of the organization since March of 1953 and has held his present position since late January of 1954 when he moved from the Regiment's 3d Battalion Executive Officer post to the Nurnberg Headquarters.

Beginning his military service in November 1940, Lt Col Birkner served in the enlisted ranks with the 141st Infantry Regiment, and rose to the position of Platoon Sergeant less than a year later. Shortly thereafter, he received a direct commission as a second lieutenant and took over as Platoon Leader with Company G of the 141st at Camp Bowie, Texas. This was followed by duty as Adjutant of that unit's 2d Battalion.

In April of 1942, he attended the Basic Airborne School at Fort Benning, Georgia, and upon completion joined the 2d Bn of the 503d Parachute Infantry Regiment at Fort Bragg, North Carolina. On June 4th 1942, the 2d Bn sailed for England where it received the distinction of becoming the first American Ground Combat troops in that country. On 7 November 1942, Lt Col Birkner flew with the 2d Bn from England to North Africa, and on the 8th of November participated in the first combat jump of American Paratroopers. This was followed by further combat jumps in North Africa and Italy.

He received a battlefield promotion to the rank of Captain in December 1942 and assumed command of Company E, 509th Parachute Regiment. This assignment was terminated by his capture after a combat jump in Italy and consequent internment in a German Prisoner of War Camp. There he was held until liberated in May of 1945, almost two years later. Returned to the Zone of Interior after his release, Lt Col Birkner held Stateside assignments at Fort Ord, California, and Camp Hood, Texas, before moving to the Armored School at Fort Knox, Kentucky, where he completed the Associate Armored Advance Course in December 1950.

Another series of posts with the 40th Tank Battalion of the 4th Infantry Division was followed by a move to Fort Meade, Maryland, and the VII Corps in February 1951. He was with that unit when it rotated to the European Command and served in the capacity of Liaison Officer and Assistant G-3 Officer until March of 1953 when he came to the 3d Battalion of the 2d Armored Cavalry Regiment. Serving first as S-3 Officer, Lt Col, then Major, Birkner soon took over as Battalion Executive Officer where he remained until his promotion to Lt Colonel in December 1953 and the subsequent move to the Regimental Headquarters as 2d Armored Cavalry Executive Officer.

A sports enthusiast, Lt Col Birkner was a member of the 1954 2d Regimental Combat Tennis Team and consistently lends his wholehearted support to the year round sports program of the Regiment.

Currently sharing his overseas tour is his wife and their three children.

Lt. Colonel Dewitt C. Armstrong III
Commander First Battalion

LIEUTENANT COLONEL DeWitt C. Armstrong III, Commanding Officer of the 1st Battalion, 2d Armored Cavalry was born 13 June 1921 in the Panama Canal Zone, the son of Brigadier General Clare H. Armstrong (ret.).

On 1 July 1939 he entered the United States Military Academy, West Point, New York. As a cadet, Lt Col Armstrong was awarded the academic rating of Distinguished Cadet during each of his four years there and was promoted successively to the senior rank of Cadet Captain. He graduated on 19 January 1943 and was commissioned second Lieutenant in the Regular Army.

During Word War II, Lt Col Armstrong served with the 47th Armored Regiment and the 94th Cavalry Reconnaissance Squadron of the 14th Armored Division in France and Germany. He was promoted to the rank of Major, in combat, at the age of twenty-three.

After VE Day, he remained in Europe until 1948, serving with the 7th Armored Group, on General Patton's general staff, and in USFA. After a tour with the Armed Forces Special Weapons Project, he graduated with honors from the Advanced Course of the Armored School. Returning to Europe, he commanded the 1st Battalion, 14th Armored Cavalry for one year.

Just prior to joining the 2d Armored Cavalry, he served as G2 Air of Seventh Army Headquarters in Stuttgart, Germany.

He has been awarded the Bronze Star Medal, Commendation Ribbon, the Purple Heart, and the French Croix de Guerre.

Lt Col Armstrong was married in 1948 to Kate Peters Johnson. They have one 3 year old son, DeWitt C. Armstrong IV, who often announces that he is a 2d Cavalry trooper too.

Lt. Colonel Henry Joseph Cronin
Commander 2nd Battalion

LIEUTENANT COLONEL HENRY JOSEPH CRONIN began his military career when he entered Virginia Military Institute in 1935. He was graduated in 1939 as a reserve Second Lieutenant, receiving a degree of Bachelor of Science in Civil Engineering. He worked as an engineer until the outbreak of World War II when he was called to active duty. Lt. Col. Cronin soon was assigned as a platoon leader in Company "C" of the newly formed 811th Tank Destroyer Battalion at Camp Gordon, Georgia. He was promoted to First Lieutenant and in January 1943, assumed command of Company "A", becoming a Captain in March. Lt. Col. Cronin participated in the California-Arizona maneuvers of 1943 and the famous Louisiana Maneuvers of 1944. Shortly afterward the organization departed for Europe and was one of the first units to land at Cherbourg, France. Lt. Col. Cronin led his company through heavy fighting in Northern France and Belgium, participating in the bloody Battle of the Bulge. He was wounded and captured in December 1944 at St. Vith, Belgium, and marched to a prison camp in Poland. He soon escaped, moved through Warsaw and Minsk to Odessa, boarded a British Transport, and soon returned to his unit. Upon his own request, he again assumed command of his company in time to lead it in attack against Kassel. At the end of the war he returned to the States with his unit which was deactivated in December 1945. During the post-war period, Lt. Col. Cronin served on AGF Board Number 2 and later as a member of OCAFF. In January 1953, he was promoted to Lieutenant Colonel, transferred to Europe, and assigned to the Comptroller Division of Hq, USAR-EUR. On 10 June 1954, Lt. Col. Cronin assumed command of the 2d Battalion 2d Armored Cavalry. The Colonel's wife, Mary Rolfe, and three children, Henry Joseph, Jr., John Rolfe, and Charlotte Ashton are with the Colonel in Bamberg.

Lt. Colonel
William M. Delaney
Commander
Third Battalion

Major Jerrol P. Lowe
Exec. Officer

Major Jerrol P. Lowe, Executive Officer of the 3rd Bn. 2nd AC Reg. is a native of Fort Worth, Texas. His military career started as an ROTC cadet in high school. He then served with the 124th Cavalry Reg. of the Texas National Guard where he was commissioned a 2nd Lt. In

BORN IN BUTTE, MONTANA, and raised in Los Angeles, California, Col Delaney considers the latter as his home. Col Delaney graduated from Loyola High School of Los Angeles and attended the University of California at Los Angeles for four years. In January 1939, he was commissioned as a Reserve 2d Lieutenant and went on active duty with the 30th Inf Regt in June 1940. Through a competitive examination, Col Delaney was commissioned in the Regular Army in October 1940 and was assigned to the Cavalry. His first cavalry assignment was with the famed 7th Cavalry, then at Fort Bliss, Texas. After a short tour with the 10th Cavalry, he joined the 1st Armored Division and participated in the initial landing in North Africa with that unit. Wounded in December 1942 Col Delaney was evacuated to the US. After recuperation, he served two years as an instructor in the Tactics Department at the Armored School. In 1945, he was assigned to Headquarters, 1st Army, then in preparation for movement to the Far East. In 1946, Col Delaney went to Korea as Executive Officer of the 2d Battalion, 32d Inf Regt. In 1948, he was named aide-de-camp to Lt General John R. Hodge, the Commanding General of the XXIV Corps in Korea. When General Hodge was named to head the V Corps at Fort Bragg, North Carolina, Col Delaney returned to the 21st with him.

Col Delaney received Airborne training at Fort Benning, Georgia, in 1949 and was briefly assigned to the 82d Airborne Division.

In 1950, he became Unit Instructor, ORC, with the 13th Armored Division in Los Angeles, and then in July of 1952, he was assigned to the European Theater as G1 Executive of VII Corps. In April 1954, he assumed command of the 3d Battalion, 2d Armored Cavalry in Amberg, the position he now holds.

Col Delaney is a graduate of both the Command and General Staff School and the Advanced Course of the Armored School. Also, in 1949, he was able to complete his work at UCLA from which he now holds a BA degree.

Col Delaney's decorations and ribbons include the Purple Heart, the Parachutist's Badge, and the ETO Ribbon with two battle stars and an initial landing arrowhead.

Mrs. Delaney, Irene, and two children, Bill, age 5, and Mary, age 4, are with the Colonel in Amberg.

1944 Major Lowe was sent to the CBI Theatre where his unit was assigned to keep open the famed Burma Road.

After the war Major Lowe served with the Cav. Replacement Training Squadron at Fort Riley, Kansas, two years with G 2, GHQ in Tokyo, and again state side, the 2nd and 1st Armored Divisions.

In July 1952 he came to Germany and in April 1954 assumed his present duties.

Among Major Lowe's decorations are the Purple Heart, Combat Infantryman's Badge and the Pacific Theatre Ribbon with five battle stars.

His wife and 3 children are with him in Amberg.

70th

Armored Field Artillery Battalion

Lt. Colonel Abb Chrietzberg

Commander

70th Armored Field Artillery Battalion

LIEUTENANT COLONEL ABB CHRIETZBERG is a native of the deep south. He was born 5 October 1918 at Electric, Alabama. He attended college at the Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Auburn, Alabama studying civil engineering and in 1941 was commissioned in the Officers Reserve Corps as a Second Lieutenant of Artillery.

Called to active duty immediately, Lt Col Chrietzberg began his military career with the FARTC, Ft Bragg, N.C. High points in his military career include combat service with the 925th FA Bn, 100th Infantry Division in Europe. In the 925th FA Bn, Lt Col Chrietzberg rose from battery commander to battalion commander. After the war, he returned to Fort Bragg, N.C., and served on the Post Planning Board and as Regimental S-3 for the FARTC. Lt Col Chrietzberg was integrated into the Regular Army in July 1946. From February 1947 to June 1949 he was assigned to the G-2 Section, GHQ, FEC, in Tokyo. Returning from Japan, Lt Col Chrietzberg attended the Artillery Officer's Advanced Course at Fort Sill, Oklahoma and was later assigned as an instructor in the Combined Arms Department, The Artillery School, Ft Sill. In March 1954 he joined VII Corps Artillery and on 11 October 1954 assumed command of the 70th Armored Field Artillery Battalion. He is a graduate of the Command and General Staff Course, Fort Leavenworth, Kansas.

During his college days, Lt Col Chrietzberg was active in football and is a member of the Scabbard and Blade, Blue Key, Monogram Club and the Sigma Nu.

History of the 70th Armored Field Artillery Battalion

THE PRESENT 70th Armored Field Artillery Battalion was born on 16 December 1940 when the 2nd Battalion of the 83rd Field Artillery Regiment was renamed the 70th Field Artillery Battalion.

The 3rd Field Artillery Regiment was founded on 4 June 1917 and on 1 August 1917 was converted into the 83rd Provisional Field Artillery and armed with horse-drawn 75mm guns.

The 83rd set sail for Europe in 1918, arriving in France two days before the Armistice was signed, and returned to the United States on 4 January 1919. While in France the Regiment acted as President Wilson's bodyguard.

In November 1919 the Regiment turned in its horses and became a tractor drawn Regiment. The 1st Battalion was placed on detached service to Camp Benning, Georgia, and the rest of the Regiment was placed on the inactive list on 7 January 1922.

On 1 May 1927 the 1st Battalion was redesignated the 83rd Field Artillery Battalion.

Between the period 22 March 1930 and 1939 the Regiment was completely reactivated.

In 1939 the 83rd Field Artillery was part of GHQ reserve at Fort Bragg, N.C. After the fall of France in 1940, the 83rd Field Artillery was moved to Fort Jackson, S.C. While there, the Regiment was broken into three separate battalions. The first Battalion retained the number 83, the 2nd Battalion became the 70th and the Third Battalion became the 71st.

70th Armored Field Artillery Battalion

In 1942 the 70th Field Artillery Battalion changed from the 75mm gun, horse drawn, to 105mm Howitzer truck drawn. After tours of duty at Fort Sill, Oklahoma, Fort Jackson, S.C. and Camp Miles Standish, Massachusetts, the 70th left, on 8 August 1943 for duty in Iceland. After 11½ months on « The Rock » the « FBI », Forgotten Bastards of Iceland, left for England. On 10 September 1944, the 70th entered France landing on Utah Beach.

The Battalion had been under Ninth Army since 30 July 1944 and while with them, had moves successively along the line, Normandy, Paris, Chateau Thierry, Verdun, into Belgium near Arlons, then north to Bastogne, Liege and St. Troud, thence east to Maastricht, Heulen and into Palenberg, Germany. Then the battalion became attached to 2nd Armored Division and the 29th Division. On the 29th February 1945, when the Spring Offensive was on the way, the 70th crossed the Ruhr at Julich and proceeded northeast to Gladbach. On 1 March, the 70th reported for duty with the 95th Division near Krefeld. Later the Battalion became attached to the 422nd Field Artillery Group and on the 23rd of March supported the Rhine River crossing of the 30th Division. Temporarily, it was attached to the 75th Division but then reverted to the 422nd Field Artillery Group. The 70th crossed the Rhine on 4 April and was again attached to the 95th Division, which it supported in the Ruhr Pocket. On 15 April the Battalion then moved to Spah Hillen where it controlled a series of rest camps until late Fall 1945 when it returned to the United States and was deactivated.

The 70th was reactivated on 15 December 1948 and assigned to the European Command and stationed at Fussen, Germany, on the German-Austrian border.

At this time the 70th was one of the four Battalions of Artillery assigned to the U.S. Constabulary under the 7732nd Field Artillery Group.

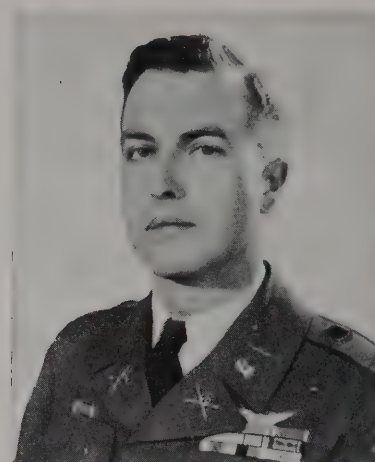

From the date of its reactivation until 15 October 1951, the Battalion was the 70th Field Artillery Battalion. The Battalion remained equipped with towed pieces until April and May of 1952 when the Self-propelled 105mm Howitzers were delivered. At this time, the Battalion was renamed the 70th Armored Field Artillery Battalion.

On 26 July 1951 the 70th moved from Fussen, Germany to its present station in Nurnberg, Germany.

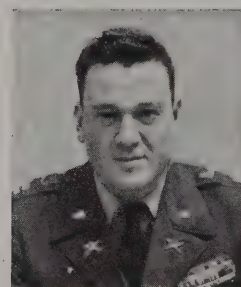

During the past three years the 70th has been attached to the 2nd US Constabulary Brigade, the 7732nd Field Artillery Group, the 36th Field Artillery Group, the 35th Field Artillery Group, the 1st Infantry Division, and is now an integral part of the 18th Field Artillery Group. It has also been attached to V Corps and VII Corps.

The Battalion as a whole, or units of the Battalion, have participated in nearly every training maneuver held in Europe since 1948. It has also been on border duty along the East border of West Germany.

Although attached to the 18th Field Artillery Group, the mission of the 70th Armored Field Artillery Battalion is to give close and continuous support to the 2nd Armored Cavalry Regiment.

371st

Armored Infantry
Battalion

Lt. Colonel Jesse P. Moorefield

Commander

371st Armored Infantry Battalion

LT. COL. JESSE P. MOOREFIELD, soldier, scholar and sportsman, climbed the steps to adulthood with a healthy thirst for knowledge. As a young man in the town of Greensboro, North Carolina, his birthplace, Col. Moorefield showed an intense interest in things pertaining to the military. He served as a member of the 252nd CAC of the North Carolina National Guard from July 1930 to June 1933.

Upon entering North Carolina State College, he excelled in both his academic studies and ROTC courses, which won for him the titles of Honor Graduate and Cadet Lieutenant Colonel of the class of 1938.

June of 1938 found him entering the active service of his country with the 11th Infantry Regiment at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indiana. After completing his training as a Thompson Act officer he won an RA commission on 1 July 1939.

As a Company Commander he served from 1940 to 1942 with the 5th Infantry Regiment stationed in Panama. During his tour of duty in Panama he coached the 5th Infantry Boxing Team to the Canal Zone championship in 1940 and 1941. Returning to the States in 1943 he attended the Advanced Classes in Infantry Tactics and Leadership at the Infantry School, Fort Benning, Georgia. Upon graduating in 1944, Col. Moorefield was assigned as a Battalion Commander with the 78th Division at Camp Pickett, Virginia. During the bitter fighting which capped World War II, he received wounds in action at three different times.

Returning to the ZI in 1945 he was enrolled in the Command and General Staff College as a member of the 26th class. From the period 1946 - 1948, Col. Moorefield taught ROTC at the University of Georgia. In order to complete his scholastic studies, he attended Stanford University from 1948 to 1950 and received his Master's Degree in business administration.

In 1950 and 1951 he returned to active service with Headquarters Fourth Army at Fort Sam Houston, Texas, as Chief of the Management Branch of the Comptroller and G-1 Sections. The extensive knowledge he gained in this field fitted him for his next assignment as Chief of the Management Branch and Survey Section, Comptroller Division, Headquarters, United States Army Europe.

In October of 1953 and until the present time Lt. Col. Jesse P. Moorefield has served as Battalion Commander of the 371st Armored Infantry Battalion.

Among the awards which Lt. Col. Moorefield has acquired are the Silver Star, Bronze Star with (OLC), and Purple Heart with (2 OLCs).

Favorite pastimes during his leisure hours are hunting, boxing and track events.

History

THE PRESENT organization dates its origin back to the birth of the 371st Infantry Regiment on August 16, 1917. Then composed entirely of selective service draftees, the Regiment was one of the first American units to see action in World War I. Its fighting men soon received battle honors for action in the Meuse-Argonne, Alsace, and Lorraine regions. As a result of these actions the unit received the Croix De Guerre from the French Government. At the war's end the Regiment returned to the States and in February 1919 was deactivated at Camp Jackson, S.C.

Once again aggression reared its ugly head in Europe and reactivation came on October 15, 1942 at Camp Joseph T. Robinson, Arkansas. The Regiment was assigned to the 92nd Infantry Division. After a rigorous training program at Fort Huachuca, Arizona, and participation in maneuvers in Louisiana, October 1944 found the unit on the high seas bound for Italy. During the remainder of 1944 and up until the end of the war in 1945, the 371st saw action during the Po Valley and North Apennines Campaigns, for which it received several battle honors. Again it was decorated by a foreign government, receiving the Croce Al Merito De Guerra from the Italian Government. Once more the Regiment was deactivated on November 24, 1945.

With the warming up of the cold war the 371st was again activated and on June 20, 1947, redesignated as the 371st Infantry Battalion at Grafenwohr, Germany. Three years later in October of 1950 the battalion was assigned to the constabulary and became an integral part of the Seventh Army.

In July of 1951 the 371st was equipped with armored personnel carriers, redesignated the 371st Armored Infantry Battalion and assigned as a separate unit to the Seventh Army.

Presently under the command of Lt. Col. Jesse P. Moorefield the 371st stands prepared to perform tasks creditable to a noble tradition, and in a manner complimentary of the fighting past of the VII Corps and the 2nd Regimental Combat Team of which it is now a part.

Maj. Francis S. Morris
Battalion Executive Officer

Major Francis S. Morris, Executive Officer of the 371st Armd. Inf. Bn., was born on 22 October 1916, and raised in the city of Charleston South Carolina. It was here that he received his formal education.

At the age of 16 he decided on an Army career and enlisted on the 25 September 1933. He was stationed at Fort Moultrie, South Carolina until 1940. He attended the Armored OCS in 1941 at Fort Knox Kentucky, and was commissioned a 2nd Lt. on 23 May 1942. He went to the ETO as an individual replacement, and joined the 68th Tk. Bn., 6th Armd. Div. in 1944, serving with that unit until the end of World War II.

Since then he has served a tour in Japan with the Wolfhounds of the 25th Inf. Div. Prior to shipping overseas for his current tour Major Morris was stationed at Fort Meade Md. with the Second Army.

Among the other awards which he now holds is the Bronze Star for valor in action.
